

Birthright Israel, New York:

Novo Arts provided artwork for their new offices, in time for their grand opening night. The final items included prints on canvas, framed prints, duratrans, video presentation and window films. Using their existing photographs, we integrated them seamlessly to give a creative edge that was still representative of their company mission. It was in line with their branding scheme and corresponded to the aesthetic and desired feel of the office space.

